

Splash panels

The wall adjacent to the kitchen worktop is an important element of the every kitchen arrangement. Located at the eye level not only should it complement the design of the whole kitchen, but it also should be characterized by an exceptional resistance to moisture, heat and dirt. Woodeco back panels can perfectly replace the popular materials used for arranging the wall above the worktop and thanks to their unique properties they meet the expectations of even the most demanding users.